TRANSACTIONS
of the
ILLUMINATING ENGINEERING SOCIETY

Volume 32 (Nos. 1-4) 1967

CONTENTS

	Page
Presidential Address: The growth of lighting, by A. H. Olson	1
The modern building: Its construction and limitations, by J. H. Napper	13
Quality of interior lighting based on luminance, by H. W. Bodmann	22
Working and living in a luminous environment, by C. L. Crouch	41
National Illumination Committee of Great Britain	54
Designing for quality in lighting, by H. Hewitt, John Kay, J. Longmore, E. Rowlands	63
Plastics in the lighting industry, by S. H. Brain	90
Metals in lighting fittings, by D. M. Stephens, I. Jenkins	96
Paints and surface coatings for lighting fittings, by A. J. Rhind-Tutt	103
Glare as a criterion for quality in street lighting, by J. B. de Boer, D. A. Schreuder	117
The achievement of quality in street lighting, by C. C. Smith	136
Eighth Trotter-Paterson Memorial Lecture: The impact of science on building, by Sir Frederick Lea	151
The electrical control of lamp light output, by G. T. K. Lark, W. R. Stevens	159
The night-time visibility of vehicle number plates, by R. A. Hargroves	172
A viewpoint on lamp development, by A. S. Vause, D. T. Waigh	181
Thyristor inverters for fluorescent lighting, by Th. Hehenkamp	197
Lamps with diffusing bulbs as standards of luminous intensity, by K. A. Wright	207
